LOCATION

The subject site is located on Edgefauld Road, in the established residential area of Springburn, approximately 1.7 miles northeast of Glasgow City Centre. Access to the site is taken via Edgefauld Road, which is an existing adopted single carriageway road.

The surrounding area is predominantly residential, and provides a combination of privately owned and social housing and a local shopping parade. Other nearby amenities include the Springburn Centre to the west, offering a selection of retail shops and adjacent local services such as a library, health centre and dental surgery. Springburn Park lies to the north providing extensive and accessible green space.

The site benefits from nearby access to the A803 (Springburn Road), which in turn connects to the M8 at Junction 15 (Royston), allowing onward travel to Glasgow City Centre and Scotland's wider motorway network. Public bus links are available from Edgefauld Road, Wellfield Street and Atlas Road, whilst Springburn Station offers regular rail service to Glasgow City Centre and beyond.

DESCRIPTION

The subjects were formerly occupied by Wellfield Nursery School, which has now been demolished. The site extends to 0.362 hectares (0.893 Acres) or thereby and is shown outlined on the attached plan.

The property is bounded to the north and east by Edgefauld Road, and to the south and west by public open space laid predominately to grass and shrubs.

The site slopes from north to south and is surfaced in a combination of concrete, tarmacadam and grassed areas currently overgrown with young trees and shrubs. It is secured by an original sandstone and brick wall incorporating railings, and a modern post and wire fence. Site access is via the former nursery school gates on Edgefauld Road at the Eastern boundary of the site.

PLANNING

Statutory Planning Position

The site requires a site-specific design solution in relation to the development plan, consisting of National Planning Framework 4 (NPF4), the Glasgow City Development Plan (GCDP) and associated Supplementary Guidance (SG).

Cognisance requires to be taken of all NPF4 policies, but the following policies in particular will be relevant:

- 3. Biodiversity
- 4. Natural places
- 14. Design, quality and place
- 16. Quality homes
- 18. Infrastructure first
- 20. Blue and green infrastructure
- 22. Flood risk and water management

The GCDP identifies the subjects as being located within the city's inner urban area, and the site is classed as having base accessibility to public transport. In terms of housing density, supplementary guide SG1 - The Placemaking Principle (Part 2) states at paragraph 2.48, Text Box A, that "higher densities will, generally, be appropriate in the Inner Urban Area...", and criterion (ii) states "density may vary between 30 and 100 Dwellings Per Hectare (DPH) in base accessibility locations". Please refer to SG1 Part 2, Pages 31-32, Paragraphs 2.45-2.50, for the full terms of Council's guidance on residential density.

Particular attention is to be brought to Policy CDP1 - The Placemaking Principle and Policy and CDP2 - Sustainable Spatial Strategy. In furtherance of Policy CDP2, the Council has produced the North Glasgow Strategic Development Framework (SDF - adopted April 2023) as spatial supplementary guidance to the GCDP; click on the link North Glasgow SDF to view the document. The subjects at Edgefauld Road lie within the SDF area, and document should be referred to as appropriate. The SDF's spatial principle (guidance statement) PR8 at page 36 of the SDF states "In addition, the delivery of other development opportunities across a range of sites will help to improve neighbourhood quality, and contribute to a compact and sustainable city."

As required, relevant GCDP Policies CDP3-CDP12 inclusive, adopted Supplementary Guidance and Interim Planning Guidance shall be used, as shall the Design Guide - New Residential Areas (March 2013).
